

Health Partners – here for you now and in the future

Health Partners has a strong 80-year history of providing its members with private health insurance that delivers genuine value, while ensuring a strong focus on best-practice governance and risk management.

In 2018/19, Health Partners bucked the industry trend, achieving net membership growth of 4.8%, reflecting its commitment to providing quality, value for money products and services.

Health Partners has a solid record of delivering strong business performances and financial results, underpinned by its pursuit of doing the right thing by its members. Our fund remains well positioned for sustainable business growth, aimed at delivering on the needs of our members, both now and well into the future. So much so, we are currently well advanced in our plans for expanding our member services in the Adelaide Hills and Western suburbs.

Health Partners acknowledges affordability and out-of-pocket expenses remain an issue and will continue to work closely with the government and health stakeholders to advocate for further reforms on behalf of our members.

Being a trusted, not-for-profit health partner, means we're acutely focused on caring for and assisting our over 90,000 members – not just now – but throughout their lifetime.
